The symbols seen to the left of the sermon title indicate the sermon was also published in a book. To ascertain the book in which the sermon was also printed, consult the Chronological listing of Simpson's Sermons compiled by J.S.S. You will find the precise reference by comparing dates, - i.e. for After Easter Days, turn to May, 1908, p. 73 in the Chronological Listing of Simpson's Sermons. You will discover that it was printed in The Christ of the Forty Days.

Between 1886 and 1889 Simpson published eleven books under the general title, - Tabernacle Sermons. Most of these sermons were not published first in his periodicals. When the title of these sermons are listed herein, you will find the title of the sermon, the name of the book and the chapter and the date of the book. The names of the eleven volumes of Tabernacle Sermons you will find on pages 1-2 in the Chronological Listing of the Writings of A. B. Simpson by J.S.S.
